RE: LETTER OF SUPPORT

To Whom It May Concern:

I am sending this letter to express WTTW's full support and enthusiasm for Michelle Valentine as she develops a new travel series, Love Eat Travel with Michelle Valentine. This exciting new series will explore the heart & soul of a destination's history, culture, foods, heart-beating adventures, and present compelling stories of the diverse people that makes these destinations so unique! Love Eat Travel with Michelle Valentine promises to be a fun, entertaining, and educational travel series for public television that will allow viewers to escape to gorgeous getaways from around the world.

The series will be hosted by Michelle Valentine, a seasoned television host and program producer, experienced world traveler, cruise speaker, published author and columnist, and travel blogger. She has nearly 100,000 social media followers and her blog at www.LoveEatTravel.tv offers thousands of travel tips and destination ideas, photos and videos, cultural food recipes, and much more.

The first season of Love Eat Travel with Michelle Valentine will include 6-episodes that will take viewers to domestic and international locations, and is planned as a long-running, multi-year, multi-season series.

WTTW is looking forward to serving as the presenting station for Love Eat Travel. WTTW has a long history of distributing engaging and widely viewed content to our viewers all over the United States; this series exemplifies our mission and continues our tradition of offering quality programming to a national audience.

If there is anything else I can do to convey my support of Love Eat Travel, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
